

Trashion Show

A note to parents and/or guardians: The Growing Sustainable Communities Conference will be held April 23 - 24, 2024 at the Grand River Center. Hosted by the City of Dubuque's Office of Sustainability, the conference is the largest and longest standing sustainability conference in the Midwest. The conference features two days of education, inspiration, and collaboration on topics of interest to anyone who cares about creating great towns and cities that stand the test of time. Learn more about the conference: <https://www.cityofdubuque.org/1079/Growing-Sustainable-Communities-Conferen>

In our upcoming 2024 conference, we aim to showcase a 'trashion' show that brings attention to the environmental and ethical issues prevalent in the fashion industry. This unique event is designed to promote sustainable practices, inspire creativity, and challenge consumer purchasing decisions. This event will serve as a platform to advocate for positive changes, aspiring to create a more sustainable future for both the environment and the people who rely on it. Our goal is to inspire the Dubuque community by emphasizing the value and importance of this work, as we strive towards a more sustainable future.

We're seeking your help! We recognize this is an extra lift, and may be impossible, and if that is the case, at a minimum, please pass this information along to others who you believe might be interested in the event. We are seeking models, creative minds, and passionate advocates for sustainable practices. Your involvement contributes to ensuring a higher quality of life for both present and future generations, as well as fostering a more sustainable environment. If you have questions, comments, or concerns, please reach don't hesitate to contact me, Molly Urbain, at murbain@cityofdubuque.org or 563.690.6038.

Deadline for submission is March 1, 2024. Earlier is TOTALLY FINE.

Thanks for your consideration,

Molly Urbain
